

PÁZMÁNY

1635

PÁZMÁNY PÉTER CATHOLIC UNIVERSITY ADMISSIONS REGULATIONS

Effective as of August 15, 2025

ADMISSIONS REGULATIONS

Section 1¹

Section 1/A² (1) When applying to the Bachelor or single-cycle programs offered by Pázmány Péter Catholic University, for the purposes of determining study points, the following subjects (studied for at least two years) may be taken into account, in addition to Hungarian Language and Literature, History, Mathematics, and a chosen foreign language studied for at least two years:

- a) in arts and humanities study fields: any subject under Annex 1 to these Regulations;
- b) in computer science and information technology study fields: any subject under Annex 1 to these Regulations;
- c) in legal science study fields: any subject under Annex 1 to these Regulations;
- d) in engineering science study fields: any subject under Annex 1 to these Regulations;
- e) in teacher training study fields: any subject under Annex 1 to these Regulations;
- f) in social science study fields: any subject under Annex 1 to these Regulations.
- g)³ in economic science study fields: any subject under Annex 1 to these Regulations.

(2)⁴ When applying to the Bachelor or single-cycle programs offered by Pázmány Péter Catholic University, for the purposes of determining study points, the following exam subjects may be taken into account, in addition to the four subjects required for the secondary school leaving exam:

- a) in legal study fields: any subject under Annex 2 to these Regulations;
- b) in all other fields, any subject specified in the effective ministerial communication on the subjects and secondary school leaving exam subjects identified as used to calculate points for the higher education admission procedure.

(3) When applying paragraphs (1)-(2), if more than one subject or exam subject has been specified, the results most favorable to the applicant shall be taken into consideration.

Section 1/B (1)^{5,6} A condition for applying to the Bachelor programs offered by Pázmány Péter Catholic University in arts and humanities study fields – with the deviations under paragraphs (2) and (3) – is two intermediate level secondary school leaving exams in any of the following secondary school leaving exam subjects: English Language, French Language, Latin Language, Hungarian Language and Literature, German Language and Literature, Italian Language, Russian Language, Spanish Language, Arab Language, Hebrew Language, Chinese Language, Japanese Language, Dutch Language, Finnish Language, Portuguese Language, History, Civics, German Nationality Language, German Nationality Language and Literature, Modern Greek Language, Drama, Philosophy, Cinema Culture and Media, Biology, Social Studies, Science, Mathematics, Bulgarian Language, Croatian Language, Croatian Minority Language, Croatian (Minority) Language and Literature, Polish Language, Serbian Language, Serbian (Minority) Language and Literature, Slovakian Language, Slovakian (Minority) Language and Literature, Slovenian Language, Slovenian Minority Language, Romanian Language, Romanian (Minority) Language and

¹ Repealed.

² Enacted by Decision 66 of September 29, 2022 of the University Council. Effective from November 5, 2022, with the proviso that its provisions shall first be applied in the 2024 general admission procedure.

³ Enacted by Decision 1 of February 13, 2025 of the University Council. Effective from 2025 general admission procedure.

⁴ Amended by Decision 49 of June 19, 2025 of the University Council. Effective from 2027 general admission procedure.

⁵ Enacted by Decision 66 of September 29, 2022 of the University Council. Effective from November 5, 2022, with the proviso that its provisions shall first be applied in the 2023 general admission procedure.

⁶ Amended by Decision 1 of February 13, 2025 of the University Council. Effective from 2025 general admission procedure.

Literature, Ukrainian Language, Geography, Digital Culture, Boyash Language, Lovari Language, Psychology, Music, Art History, Drawing and Visual Culture, Visual Culture, Informatics, Basics of Education, Pedagogical Skills.

(2)⁷ Contrary to the provisions of paragraph (1), the condition for applying to English and American Studies is an advanced-level secondary school leaving exam in English Language and an intermediate secondary school leaving exam in a secondary school leaving exam subject specified for the arts and humanities study field.

(3)^{8,9} Contrary to the provisions of paragraph (1), the condition for applying to the Psychology Bachelor program is an advanced and an intermediate-level secondary school leaving exam in the following exam subjects: Biology, Hungarian Language and Literature, Mathematics, History, English Language, German Language and Literature, Italian Language, Latin Language, French Language, Spanish Language, Russian Language.

(4)^{10,11,12} The condition for applying to the Bachelor programs offered by Pázmány Péter Catholic University's computer science and information technology study field is an advanced-level and an intermediate-level secondary school leaving exam in the following secondary school leaving exam subjects an optional subject from Mathematics or Physics, and an additional subject from the following: Mathematics, Physics, Informatics, Digital Culture, Basics of Information Technology, Basics of Electronics, Basics of Information Technology, Information Technology Skills, Telecommunications Skills, Electrical Industry and Electronics Skills, Automated Systems and Electronics Skills, Basics of Software Technology, Basics of Hardware Technology, Basics of Optics. Two different subjects must be chosen.

(4a)¹³ The condition for applying to the Bachelor programs offered by Pázmány Péter Catholic University's economic science study field is two intermediate-level secondary school leaving exams in the following secondary school leaving exam subjects from Hungarian Language and Literature, Social Studies, Natural Sciences, Chemistry, Military Studies, Defense Studies, Physics, Philosophy, Biology, Law Enforcement Studies, History, Mathematics, Public Administration Studies, Citizenship Studies, Informatics, Economic Studies, Geography, Sustainability, Digital Culture, Croatian National Minority Language and Literature, Croatian National Minority Language, German National Minority Language, German National Minority Language and Literature, Romanian National Minority Language and Literature, Serbian National Minority Language and Literature, Slovak National Minority Language and Literature, Slovenian National Minority Language and Literature, Business Economics, Ukrainian National Minority Language and Literature, Bulgarian National Minority Language, one elective vocational preparatory examination subject, one elective sectoral vocational secondary school leaving examination subject, one elective specialization within a sectoral vocational secondary school leaving examination subject, or a foreign language.

The elective vocational preparatory examination subject may include the following:

Architectural and Construction Studies, Food Industry Studies, Social Studies, Law Enforcement Studies, Transportation Studies (Transport Technology), Transportation Studies (Transport

⁷ Enacted by Decision 66 of September 29, 2022 of the University Council. Effective from November 5, 2022, with the proviso that its provisions shall first be applied in the 2024 general admission procedure.

⁸ Enacted by Decision 66 of September 29, 2022 of the University Council. Effective from November 5, 2022, with the proviso that its provisions shall first be applied in the 2024 general admission procedure.

⁹ Amended by Decision 1 of February 13, 2025 of the University Council. Effective from 2025 general admission procedure.

¹⁰ Enacted by Decision 66 of September 29, 2022 of the University Council. Effective from November 5, 2022, with the proviso that its provisions shall first be applied in the 2024 general admission procedure.

¹¹ Amended by Decision 8 of February 16, 2023 of the University Council.

¹² Amended by Decision 141 of December 20, 2023 of the University Council. Effective from 2025 general admission procedure.

¹³ Enacted by Decision 1 of February 13, 2025 of the University Council. Effective from 2025 general admission procedure.

Operations), Mechanical Engineering Studies, Wood Industry Studies, Electronics Studies, Healthcare Studies, Office Administration Studies, Hospitality and Tourism Studies, Economics and Marketing Studies, Economics Studies (Business Economics), Economics Studies (Theoretical Economics), Commerce and Marketing Studies, or Basics of Information Technology.

The elective sectoral vocational secondary school leaving examination subject may include the following: Telecommunications Studies, Social Studies, Sports Studies, Law Enforcement and Public Service Studies, Law Enforcement Studies, Transportation Infrastructure Studies, Transportation Studies, Environmental Protection Studies, Environmental Protection and Water Management Studies, Defense Studies, Healthcare Technical Studies, Healthcare Studies, Office Administration Studies, Hospitality Industry Studies, Tourism Studies, Economics Studies, Commerce Studies, or Informatics Studies.

The elective specialization within a sectoral vocational secondary school leaving examination subject may include the following: Automobile and Aircraft Maintenance Studies, Road, Railway, and Bridge Construction Studies, Food Industry Mechanical Engineering Studies, Railway Transport, Freight Forwarding, and Logistics Studies, Railway Mechanical Engineering Studies, Postal Services Studies, Agricultural and Forestry Mechanical Engineering Studies, Mechatronics Studies, Structural and Civil Engineering Studies, Road and Air Transport, Freight Forwarding, and Logistics Studies, Transportation Automation Studies, Maritime Technical Studies, Manufacturing Technology Studies, Automation and Electronics Studies, Office Administration Studies, Foreign Language Office Administration Studies.

The foreign language may include: Ukrainian Language, Slovenian Language, Slovak Language, Serbian Language, Romanian Language, Croatian Language, Spanish Language, Russian Language, Italian Language, German Language (and Literature), French Language, or English Language.

(5)^{14,15} The condition for applying to the single-cycle law program offered by Pázmány Péter Catholic University in the legal science study field is an advanced and an intermediate-level secondary school leaving exam in the following exam subjects: History, English Language, French Language, Latin Language, German Language (and Literature), Italian Language, Russian Language, Spanish Language, Hungarian Language and Literature, Mathematics, or Philosophy.

(6)^{16,17} The condition for applying to the Bachelor programs offered in the legal science study field is two intermediate level secondary school leaving exams in the following exam subjects: History, English Language, French Language, Latin Language, German Language (and Literature), Italian Language, Russian Language, Spanish Language, Hungarian Language and Literature, Mathematics, Philosophy, Information Technology, Digital Culture, Social Sciences, Economics, Basics of Public Administration, Basics of Economics (Business Economics, Theoretical Economics), Basics of Information Technology, Basics of Law Enforcement, Basics of Administration, Basics of Social Skills, Basics of Economics, Economics Skills, Information Technology Skills, Social Skills, Law Enforcement Skills, Law Enforcement and Public Administration, Administration, Surveying Skills, specialized sectoral technical secondary school leaving exam subject (Office Administration, Administration in a Foreign Language).

¹⁴ Enacted by Decision 66 of September 29, 2022 of the University Council. Effective from November 5, 2022, with the proviso that its provisions shall first be applied in the 2024 general admission procedure.

¹⁵ Amended by Decision 1 of February 13, 2025 of the University Council. Effective from 2025 general admission procedure.

¹⁶ Enacted by Decision 68 of October 27, 2022 of the University Council. Effective from November 5, 2022, with the proviso that the provision pertaining to the intermediate level secondary school leaving exam shall first be applied in the 2023 general admission procedure.

¹⁷ Amended by Decision 1 of February 13, 2025 of the University Council. Effective from 2025 general admission procedure.

(7)^{18,19} The condition for applying to Pázmány Péter Catholic University's engineering science study field is an advanced-level and an intermediate-level secondary school leaving exam in the following secondary school leaving exam subjects: in addition to one optional subject of Mathematics, Physics and Biology, an additional optional subject from the following: Mathematics, Biology, Physics, Information Technology, Digital Culture, Chemistry, Basics of Electronics, Electronics, Basics of Information Technology, Chemical Industry Basics, Basics of Information Technology, Information Technology Skills, Optical Skills, Electrical Industry and Electronics Skills, Chemistry Skills, Chemical Industry Skills, Mechanical and Technological Engineering, Mechatronics Skills, Automation and Electronics. Two different subjects must be chosen.

(8)^{20,21} The condition for applying to Pázmány Péter Catholic University's single-cycle teacher training programs in the teacher training study field – with the exception of teacher training in English language and culture - is two intermediate level secondary school leaving exams – or practical exams – suitable for the given teacher training program, as set out in Annex 3 to these Regulations. In case of teacher training in English language and culture, the application requirement is an advanced level secondary school leaving exam in English language and an intermediate level exam or practical exam suitable for the given teacher training as specified in Annex 3 to these Regulations.

(9)^{22,23} The condition for applying to the Bachelor programs in the teacher training study field is two intermediate level secondary school leaving exams in the following secondary school leaving exam subjects: Hungarian Language and Literature, a minority language (including literature) corresponding to the major, Biology, foreign languages, Mathematics, History, Physics, Music, Social Studies, Physical Education, Visual Culture, Drawing and Visual Culture, Lovari Language, Boyash Language, Cinema Culture and Media Skills, Drama or Philosophy, Basics of Education, Basics of Health, Basics of Social Skills, Basics of Information Technology, Pedagogical Skills, Health Skills, Healthcare Skills, Healthcare Technology Skills, Social Skills, Fine and Industrial Arts, Information Technology Skills, Sports Skills, Fine and Industrial Arts, Ecclesiastical Music Skills, Practicing Actor, Jazz Musician, Folk Musician, Classical Music Skills, Dancer, technical secondary school leaving exam within the same field (Ecclesiastical Music Skills, Practicing Actor, Jazz Musician, Folk Musician, Classical Music Skills, Dancer), Basics of Health, Psychology, Information Technology, Digital Culture.

(10)^{24,25} The condition for applying to the Bachelor programs offered by Pázmány Péter Catholic University in the social sciences study field is two intermediate level secondary school leaving exams in the following exam subjects: foreign language, Minority Language and Literature, Hungarian Language and Literature, Mathematics, Citizenship Studies, Social Studies, History, Physics, Geography, Chemistry, Biology, Information Technology, Digital Culture, Drama

¹⁸ Enacted by Decision 66 of September 29, 2022 of the University Council. Effective from November 5, 2022, with the proviso that its provisions shall first be applied in the 2024 general admission procedure.

¹⁹ Amended by Decision 141 of December 20, 2023 of the University Council. Effective from 2025 general admission procedure.

²⁰ Enacted by Decision 68 of October 27, 2022 of the University Council. Effective from November 5, 2022, with the proviso that the provision pertaining to the intermediate level secondary school leaving exam shall first be applied in the 2023 general admission procedure.

²¹ Amended by Decision 141 of December 20, 2023 of the University Council. Effective from 2025 general admission procedure.

²² Enacted by Decision 68 of October 27, 2022 of the University Council. Effective from November 5, 2022, with the proviso that the provision pertaining to the intermediate level secondary school leaving exam shall first be applied in the 2023 general admission procedure.

²³ Amended by Decision 48 of June 20, 2024 of the University Council.

²⁴ Amended by Decision 8 of February 16, 2023 of the University Council. Effective from November 5, 2022, with the proviso that the provision pertaining to the intermediate level secondary school leaving exam shall first be applied in the 2023 general admission procedure.

²⁵ Amended by Decision 1 of February 13, 2025 of the University Council. Effective from 2025 general admission procedure.

or Philosophy, Cinema Culture and Media, Basics of Information Technology, Basic Social Skills, Basics of Education, Basics of Information Technology Skills, Social Skills, Pedagogical Skills, Basics of Pedagogy.

(11)²⁶ The intermediate secondary school leaving exam specified in this Section may be replaced by an advanced secondary school leaving exam.

Section 1/C²⁷ When applying to the Bachelor or single-cycle programs offered by Pázmány Péter Catholic University, the institutional points (a total maximum of 100) are determined by study field with the application of the legal titles and point values specified in Annex 4 to these Regulations.

Section 1/D (1)^{28,29} A condition for admission to a Bachelor or single-cycle program offered by Pázmány Péter Catholic University, the following minimum number of points must be attained:

- a) in arts and humanities study fields: no minimum point requirement;
- b) in computer science and information technology study fields: 300 points;
- c) in legal science study fields: no minimum point requirement;
- d) in engineering science study fields: 300 points;
- e) in teacher training study fields: no minimum point requirement;
- f) in social science study fields: no minimum point requirement;
- g)³⁰ in economic science study fields: no minimum point requirement.

(2) A further condition for admission to the kindergarten education and primary school teaching programs offered by the Faculty of Humanities and Social Sciences is the certification of medical fitness and passing the suitability examination published in the Admission Information.

(3) A further condition for admission to the Teacher of Religious Education, Teacher of Film and Media Education and Teacher of Creative Drama and Theatre pairs of majors offered by the Faculty of Humanities and Social Sciences is the passing of the practical exam published in the Admission Information.

Section 2^{31,32,33} (1) In the cases specified in these Regulations, the University ranks applicants for bachelor, single-cycle, and tertiary vocational programs with a degree obtained from a bachelor's, master's, or single-cycle, or an equivalent university or college program by taking into account previous higher education studies and notwithstanding the requirement pertaining to a possible advanced-level secondary school-leaving examination.

(2) The ranking system differs between fields of training or, in certain cases, majors; paragraphs (5)-(10) lay down the detailed rules for ranking.

²⁶ Enacted by Decision 66 of September 29, 2022 of the University Council. Effective from November 5, 2022, with the proviso that its provisions shall first be applied in the 2023 general admission procedure.

²⁷ Enacted by Decision 68 of October 27, 2022 of the University Council. Effective from November 5, 2022, with the proviso that the provision pertaining to the intermediate level secondary school leaving exam shall first be applied in the 2023 general admission procedure.

²⁸ Enacted by Decision 66 of September 29, 2022 of the University Council. Effective from November 5, 2022, with the proviso that its provisions shall first be applied in the 2023 general admission procedure, with the exception that paragraph (1) point (b) and point (d), as well as paragraphs (2) and (3), shall first be applied in the 2024 general admission procedure.

²⁹ Amended by Decision 130 of December 7, 2023 of the University Council. Effective from 2024 general admission procedure.

³⁰ Amended by Decision 1 of February 13, 2025 of the University Council. Effective from 2025 general admission procedure.

³¹ Amended by Decision 7 of April 12, 2019 of the University Council.

³² Amended by Decision 51 of June 15, 2023 of the University Council. Effective as of August 15, 2023.

³³ Amended by Decision 1 of February 13, 2025 of the University Council. Effective from 2025 general admission procedure.

(3) In the fields of training not listed in paragraphs (5)-(10), the University will not use earlier higher education studies to calculate admission scores.

(4) If these Regulations permit the calculation of scores based on a previous higher education degree, the score shall be determined on the basis of the grade of the higher education degree, as set out below:

- a) 300 points for a grade of “pass” (or equivalent),
- b) 333 points for a grade of “satisfactory” (or equivalent),
- c) 366 points for a grade of “good” (or equivalent),
- d) 400 points for a grade of “excellent” (or equivalent).

(5)^{34,35} When applying for a major in a field of training involving the social sciences, arts and humanities, or teacher training, any degree obtained in any major can be taken into consideration, with the provision that when applying for a major in English and American Studies, Teacher of English Language and Culture (or any teacher training majors including these subject pairs), a score can be calculated on the basis of the previous higher education degree only if the applicant has at least an intermediate-level (level B2) complex language exam certificate in English language.

(6)³⁶

(7) The degrees that can be taken into consideration for ranking based on a previous higher education degree when applying for a major in a field of training involving economic science:

- a) all higher education degrees obtained in a major belonging to any field of training in the arts and humanities,
- b) all higher education degrees obtained in a major belonging to any field of training in economic science,
- c) all higher education degrees obtained in a major belonging to any field of training in computer science and information technology,
- d) all higher education degrees obtained in a major belonging to any field of training in legal science,
- e) all higher education degrees obtained in a major belonging to any engineering science field of training,
- f) all higher education degrees obtained in a major belonging to any field of training in social sciences.

(8) A previous higher education degree obtained in any major can be taken into consideration when applying for a field of training in legal science.

(9)³⁷

Section 2/A³⁸ (1) The Vitéz János Teacher Training Center organizes and holds vocational examination for higher education admission.

(2) Only the applicant assigned to the Pázmány Péter Catholic University by the Educational Authority for taking the examination may take the vocational examination for higher education admission. No applications may be submitted directly to the University for taking the examination.

³⁴ Amended by Decision 53 of July 23, 2019 of the University Council. Effective starting from the 2020 general admissions procedure.

³⁵ Amended by Decision 1 of February 13, 2025 of the University Council. Effective from 2025 general admission procedure.

³⁶ Repealed by Decision 53 of July 23, 2019 of the University Council. Repealed starting from the 2020 general admissions procedure.

³⁷ Repealed by Decision 53 of July 23, 2019 of the University Council. Repealed starting from the 2020 general admissions procedure.

³⁸ Enacted by Decision 60 of May 31, 2017 of the University Council.

- (3) The Educational Authority specifies the exact time of the examination. No examinations may be scheduled for any other times.
- (4)³⁹ With the exception of the additional admission procedure in the same semester, the results of the examination may not be used for the purposes of any other admissions procedures.
- (5) The examination invitation shall be sent to the applicant at a suitable time before the examination, in a provable manner. The examination invitation includes the date and time of the examination, the detailed rules for holding the examination, a list of the technical aids permitted for the examination (which applicants have to take with them), the method for disclosing the results of the examination, and the details pertaining to the possibility for reviewing the examination and for seeking legal remedy.
- (6) The Educational Authority shall send the test sheets and the aids necessary for solving the exercises (hereinafter the test sheet and the aid jointly referred to as the test sheet), including guidelines for correcting and evaluating examinations, to the University prior to the examination. Test sheets shall be treated confidentially until the examination is started.
- (7) Examinees participating in the examination shall be broken down into exam groups. All exam groups shall have consecutive numbering, starting with the Arabic numeral one, according to examination subjects.
- (8) The examination shall be held in a part of the building where it is possible to ensure suitable supervision. During the examination, only the examiners, the supervising teachers, and the representatives of the official bodies attending to check the written examination may enter the part of the building set aside for the examination; all other persons may enter only with the permission of the head of the Teacher Training Center.
- (9) At the beginning of the day of the examination, the supervising teacher shall determine the seating order in the examination room on the basis of the preliminary grouping in a manner that ensures examinees cannot help or hinder each other.
- (10) Examinees shall arrive at the examination location at least thirty minutes before the examination. Before starting the examination, the supervising teacher shall check the identification of those present, inform the examinees of the rules of the written examination and the possible consequences for violating the rules, and hand out the test sheets. Only the members of the exam groups designated to take the given examination may be present when the test sheets are handed out. After handing out the test sheets, the supervising teacher will inform examinees to start the examination, the time of which is recorded in the minutes of the examination. The time available for answering the questions is calculated from this time.
- (11) Examinees may not be given any instructions or help in answering the questions.
- (12) Constant supervision has to be provided in the examination room. The supervising teacher is responsible for ensuring that examinees do not use any prohibited aids and do not receive any help from other examinees or persons. If necessary, more than one supervising teacher may be responsible for one examination so they can take turns.
- (13) Examinees may use only the centrally issued test sheets and the additional sheets of paper bearing the stamp of the institution organizing the examination. Drawings shall be made with pencil; all other handwritten answers shall be written with blue or black ink (ball point pen). The test sheet may require the use of a typewriter or computer. For each examination subject, a test sheet must be attached to the minutes of the examination.
- (14) Examinees shall bring their own writing implements and technical aids. The detailed examination requirements and specifications specify the tools that the University must provide. Examinees may not share technical aids.

³⁹ Amended by Decision 27 of June 16, 2022 of the University Council. Effective as of August 15, 2022.

(15) Examinees shall write their names on all test sheets and additional sheets they receive; they shall also write the date of the examination and the name of the subject on their additional sheets. All drafts and notes must be made on these sheets.

(16) During written examinations, examinees may only leave the room in justified cases and, as far as possible, only one at a time. Examinees who leave the room shall hand in their examination papers to the supervising teacher, who will record, on the examination paper, the time the student left the room and returned.

(17) After finishing the written examination, examinees shall cross out any parts of the examination paper left empty as well as the entirety of the draft sheets and shall write, on the examination title page, the number of additional sheets used. Examinees shall then put their examination papers with their answers, their draft sheets, and all additional sheets used, including those crossed out, into the envelope with their name on it, and shall hand it over to the supervising teacher without sealing the envelope. In the presence of the examinee, the supervising teacher shall check the number of additional sheets and whether the examinee has crossed out the empty parts of the examination paper and the draft sheets. The supervising teacher shall then seal the envelope in the presence of the examinee. The supervising teacher shall note the time of completion on the minutes and sign the entry. After the envelope is sealed, the examinee shall leave the part of the building set aside for the examination.

(18) The supervising teacher shall draw up minutes of the written examination. The minutes shall include the seating order and the events that transpired during the examination. The supervising teacher shall sign the minutes.

(19) If the supervising teacher notices any irregularity during the examination, (s)he shall collect the examination paper, write the given irregularity on it together with the exact time the irregularity was noticed, and shall then hand it back to the examinee, who may continue taking the examination.

(20) Promptly after the completion of the examination, the head of the Teacher Training Center shall examine the report pertaining to the irregularity. The findings shall be drawn up in detailed minutes. Such minutes shall include the statements of the examinee and the supervising teacher, as well as all events that help in investigating the perpetration of the irregularity. Both the supervising teacher and the examinee shall sign the minutes. The examinee may include his/her separate opinion in the minutes. If it is found that an irregularity took place, the examinee's examination shall be given a failing grade.

(21) If, for any reason, the examinee is unable to participate in or does not finish the examination, regardless of whether the examinee is at fault or not, there is no possibility for taking a make-up examination or to start the examination at a later time. Examinations may not be repeated or retaken.

(22) The head of the Teacher Training Center shall recommend specialist teachers (with suitable experience in administering secondary school-leaving examinations) for correcting test sheets and for supervising the examinations. The Dean of the Faculty of Humanities and Social Sciences shall conclude the necessary contracts with the specialist teachers and the supervising teachers.

(23) The specialist teachers shall correct the completed test sheets, indicating the errors and mistakes with a color of pen that is easily distinguishable from that used by the examinee.

(24)⁴⁰ The solutions provided in response to the exam questions have to be corrected and graded in line with the provided guidelines. The examination will receive a passing grade if its score is equal to at least 25%; otherwise, it shall be considered as having received a failing grade. If the examinee fails to appear at or does not start the exam, the examination shall be graded as "did not show".

⁴⁰ Amended by Decision 51 of June 15, 2023 of the University Council. Effective as of September 1, 2023.

(25) If, during correcting the test sheets the specialist teacher comes to the assumption that the examinee used a prohibited technical aid or received help, the teacher shall indicate the finding on the test sheet and shall inform the head of the Teacher Training Center, who will promptly examine the issue. If it is found that an irregularity took place, the examinee's examination shall be given a failing grade.

(26) The specialist teacher shall write the score of the examination and the time of correction on the corrected examination paper, after which (s)he shall return the examination to the head of the Teacher Training Center or the teacher contracted to organize the examination.

(27) Examinees may review their examination papers and the guidelines at a time and place indicated beforehand. At least one workday shall be provided for the review.

(28) An application for legal remedy may be filed against the grading of the examination in line with the general rules for seeking legal remedy against evaluation. The legal remedy proceeding shall be given priority.

Section 3 When applying for a master program, the performance of applicants shall be evaluated in a points-based system by determining the maximum number of points that can be awarded for admissions performance and additional performance, the total of which cannot exceed 100 points. The admissions requirements and the method for calculating points and for ranking shall be set out in the Faculty's complementary provisions to these Regulations.

Section 4 (1)^{41,42} The admission requirement for the postgraduate specialist training programs must meet the conditions published by the faculty responsible for the organization of the given program, with the applicant's admission results being evaluated in a 100-point system. The Dean decides on admission based on the assessment.

(2) The Deans specify the deadlines and methods for applying separately for each Faculty, which shall be published on the Faculty websites and the Admissions Information at the recommendation of the units that deal with specialist training.

Section 5⁴³ (1) Based on the recommendation of the Doctoral Council competent as regards the discipline/field, the University's Faculties regularly announce admissions procedures and conditions in line with their training programs. Certain theological and Canon Law training programs approved by the Holy See are exceptions to the above, as they shall be considered announced every year.

(2) The University shall publish the following in the competent ministry's Doctoral Admission Regulations, on the University website, the Association of Hungarian PhD and DLA Candidates (DOSZ) website, the University's bulletin board, at partner universities, and in daily papers:

- a) the number of students planned to be admitted;
- b) information pertaining to tuition, reimbursement fees, and benefits;
- c) the requirements of admission, with special regard to the grading of the admission examination and the principle of the applied ranking;
- d) the amount of the admission procedure fee and information regarding payment thereof;
- e) other information necessary for applicants.

Section 6⁴⁴ (1) The general conditions for admission to doctoral programs:

- a) a university or master diploma with at least a "good" grade or qualified "cum laude," certifying the completion of university studies finished by passing a final examination

⁴¹ Amended by Decision 27 of June 16, 2022 of the University Council. Effective as of August 15, 2022.

⁴² Amended by Decision 1 of February 13, 2025 of the University Council. Effective from 2025 general admission procedure.

⁴³ Amended by Decision 46 of June 10, 2016 of the University Council.

⁴⁴ Amended by Decision 46 of June 10, 2016 of the University Council.

or, in the case of theological and Canon Law doctoral programs, a theological or Canon Law bachelor degree equivalent to an MA degree, qualified at least as “cum laude,” and recognized by the Holy See,

- b) complex, state accredited language exams in the foreign languages necessary for researching the selected topics and specified by the Disciplinary Doctoral Council, but at least one intermediate-level (level B2) complex language exam certificate, or equivalent,
- c) adequate technical proficiency in the selected subject field,
- d) certified scientific/professional achievements (e.g. TDK [National Conference for Student Researchers] paper, publications) are given preference.

(2) At the recommendation of the Doctoral School, the Disciplinary Doctoral Councils may add additional conditions to the general admission requirements.

(3) Admission to doctoral programs is possible on the basis of an admissions procedure.

(4) Degrees obtained abroad have to be recognized in line with the provisions of relevant legislation prior to applying for admission. University students applying before taking their final examinations are to attach a copy of their registration book or, in absence thereof, of their final certificate and credit certificate. Decisions on their admission is conditional. Degrees with grades worse than “good” or “cum laude” invalidate the conditional admission.

(5) Applications for admission may be submitted to the Faculty’s competent organizational unit at the time announced and shall include the provided registration sheet and a voucher certifying payment of the admission administrative fee. Applications for theological and Canon Law doctoral programs shall be submitted by registering for the licentiate period as specified by the Theology Doctoral Regulations and in line with the legislative provisions of the Catholic Church and the Statutes of the Faculty of Theology and the Institute of Canon Law, as approved by the Holy See.

(6) The admissions committee, consisting of at least three members appointed by the University Doctoral Council, shall hold an admissions hearing with the applicants to ascertain their technical proficiency and to discuss their ideas regarding their doctoral work, their previous scientific activities, and their language skills. The committee evaluates the applicants’ performance, ranks them, and categorizes their applications as “strongly recommended,” “recommended,” or “not recommended.” The given disciplinary doctoral regulations specify the additional details of the admissions procedure.

(7) Applicants to programs with state scholarships and to self-funding programs participate in the admissions procedure with the same requirements and conditions.

(8) The admissions committee may recommend the admission of applicants to the Disciplinary Doctoral Council in the order of their scores. The Disciplinary Doctoral Council decides on the score required for admission on the basis of the scholarship allocation provided by the University Doctoral Council and by taking into account both the opportunities of the Faculty competent in the given discipline or field and the capacity of the doctoral school.

(9)⁴⁵ In exceptional cases, students may participate in the program based on individual preparation, if substantiated by the applicant’s professional and scientific background, the applicant has shown suitable scientific performance, and the applicant has met the admission requirements. In this case, the student status of the applicant is established upon successful performance of the complex examination.

(10) Additional conditions for applying for the complex examination besides the general requirements for admission to doctoral training:

- a) the knowledge of two foreign languages at a level required by the scientific discipline, proven with at least a B2 level complex state-accredited language exam or an equivalent certificate; with the provision that deaf students may certify the above with proof of knowledge of a sign language other than the Hungarian; foreign doctoral students shall certify knowledge of another foreign language in addition to their native language, in line with the provisions of these Regulations, and

⁴⁵ Amended by Decision 3 of February 10, 2022 of the University Council.

- b) certification of the professional and scientific conditions and performance that justify acceptance of the application for the complex examination.

(11) The University Doctoral Council shall notify the applicant of its decision within eight days. In the decision on admission, admitted doctoral students shall be informed of the time and place of enrollment and all other conditions that have to be met.

(12) The Doctoral School shall publish the list of admitted applicants and their results in the manner customary at the University.

(13) Doctoral students who have gained admission shall enroll at the start of the semester (possibilities for which are provided at the time(s) specified in the schedule for the academic year) and shall be issued a student card.

(14) The University keeps records of the doctoral students who have gained admission. The University shall disclose the data of admitted doctoral students to the Association of Hungarian PhD and DLA Candidates, if the given student has granted his/her consent on the application form.

Section 6/A^{46,47} (1) Programs offered in foreign languages can be announced independently for foreign citizens – or for Hungarian citizens with foreign secondary school-leaving examinations (hereinafter jointly: foreign citizens) – only or together with the general admissions procedure. Hungarian citizens without a foreign secondary school-leaving examination may be admitted to a program offered in a foreign language only as part of the general admission procedure specified by law. Foreign citizens may be admitted to a program offered in Hungarian only as part of the general admission procedure specified by law or as part of the Stipendium Hungaricum Scholarship Programme.

(2) A program in a foreign language announced for foreign citizens shall be announced on the University website. Additionally, the program may also be advertised and announced in any other manner.

(3) The various Faculties may specify, in their complementary provisions to these Regulations, the conditions for applying to programs offered in foreign languages for foreign citizens and for assessing the applications, with the provision that at least the following documents must be submitted:

- the application form completed in full,
- the applicant's professional curriculum vitae,
- the documents certifying the applicant's secondary school education if applying for a bachelor program and certifying a bachelor's degree if applying for a master program,
- documents certifying the applicant's language skills in the language of the program.

(4) The deadline for foreign citizens to apply for a program in a foreign language is August 10 of the year in which the program is launched. The University maintains the right to refrain from launching the program if the number of applicants is insufficient and from admitting foreign citizens as part of the procedure specified in the present Section.

(5) The Dean of the Faculty competent for announcing the given program shall decide on the admission of foreign citizens to foreign language programs.

(6) The fee for the admission procedure for foreign language programs announced only for foreign citizens shall be set when announcing the program, also indicating the data necessary for transferring the fee. Payment of the administrative fee is a requisite of the admission procedure. The admission administrative fee may not be returned to the applicant even if the ⁴⁶ Enacted by Decision 2033 of October 30, 2015 of the University Council.

⁴⁷ Amended by Decision 27 of June 16, 2022 of the University Council. Effective as of August 15, 2022.

admission application is rejected or the program is not launched due to an insufficient number of foreign citizen applicants.

(7) During their studies in Hungary, foreign citizens shall have adequate health insurance, for which they are liable. Admitted students shall provide for their own accommodation and living costs. At most, the University can provide advice in connection with these issues.

(8) Citizens of the EU and EEA Member States may enter Hungary without a visa. If they stay in Hungary for more than 90 days, they must apply to the National Directorate-General for Aliens Policing for a residence permit for educational purposes. Third country nationals have to apply for a visa at the Hungarian diplomatic representation in their own respective countries. They must present the documents certifying their student status (e.g. letter of acceptance) when applying for a visa. After arriving in Hungary, they must apply to the National Directorate-General for Aliens Policing for a residence permit for educational purposes.

(9) The University shall send one original copy of the certificate necessary for applying for a visa to admitted students after having made its decision on admission if the student so requested on the admission form.

Section 6/B^{48,49} (1) The Tempus Public Foundation's team responsible for the Stipendium Hungaricum Programme shall submit the names and admission documents of the students applying for Stipendium Hungaricum Scholarship Programmes to the Central Office for Foreign Affairs. The Office shall forward the documents to the competent Faculties.

(2) The admissions of students applying for the Stipendium Hungaricum Scholarship Programme are ranked in a 100-point system. Scores are determined by the competent admissions committee on the basis of the application documents and after holding an admission hearing, if applicable.

(3) The Faculties are entitled to require admissions hearings when announcing the programs. Admissions hearings may be held with the use of real-time electronic systems that allow the identity of the applicant to be credibly proven.

(4) There is no possibility for submitting additional information in the admission procedure.

(5) Based on the ranking determined in the admission procedure and the number of available places, the Faculty groups the applicants into the following categories:

- a) recommended for admission
- b) not recommended for admission
- c) conditionally recommended for admission.

(6) Those applicants may be conditionally recommended for admission who are unable to submit the documents proving their education or language skills due to pending examinations.

(7)⁵⁰ The Faculty shall inform the Central Office for Foreign Affairs on the results of the admission procedure by the deadline specified in advance.

(8)^{51,52} The admission rules pertaining to the Stipendium Hungaricum Scholarship Programme shall be applied mutatis mutandis to applicants in the Scholarship Programme for Christian Young People and the Diaspora Scholarship Programme.

Section 7⁵³ The institutional procedural fee is determined for each academic year in advance by the University Council.

Acceptance clause:

The University Council of the Pázmány Péter Catholic University has adopted these amended rules with Decisions 49 of June 19, 2025. Effective as of August 15, 2025.

Data protection status: public

Dated in Budapest on June 19, 2025

Dr. Géza György Kuminetz
Rector